
Selecting the Right Retirement Destination

Posted on: December 12, 2016

Choosing a retirement location can be a stressful experience, especially when you combine your own questions with the pressures you might be receiving from loved ones to live near them. Here are ten tips to help ensure that your retired life is as wonderful as it can be.

1. Do not Rush Yourself: Determining where and how you are going to spend what should be the most important years of your life is a decision that should not be rushed. Take your time to research and consider all the options available to you. Read books, articles, and blogs. Talk to friends and family who have retired. Visit potential destinations. Take a week or two to really think about it. You don't want to regret your decision later.
2. Consider the Climate: If you are moving to a new location, you will need to consider the climate. Do you prefer hot or cold weather? Do you prefer a beach or a mountain? Do you prefer a city or a rural area? Consider the climate of the destination you are considering.
3. Consider the Cost of Living: The cost of living in a new location can be a major factor in your decision. Consider the cost of housing, food, transportation, and healthcare. Compare the cost of living in your current location to the cost of living in the destination you are considering.
4. Consider the Healthcare: Healthcare is a major concern for many retirees. Consider the quality of healthcare in the destination you are considering. Look for hospitals, clinics, and doctors. Consider the proximity to healthcare facilities.
5. Consider the Community: You will be living in a new community. Consider the demographics of the community. Do you want to live near other retirees? Do you want to live near families? Do you want to live in a quiet neighborhood or a busy one? Consider the community you are considering.
6. Consider the Amenities: Amenities can make a big difference in your retirement. Consider the amenities of the destination you are considering. Do you want a golf course? Do you want a beach? Do you want a park? Do you want a shopping center? Consider the amenities you are considering.
7. Consider the Transportation: Transportation is a major factor in your decision. Consider the transportation options in the destination you are considering. Do you want to drive? Do you want to take a bus? Do you want to walk? Consider the transportation options you are considering.
8. Consider the Safety: Safety is a major concern for many retirees. Consider the safety of the destination you are considering. Look for crime rates, accidents, and natural disasters. Consider the safety of the destination you are considering.
9. Consider the Proximity to Family: Many retirees want to live near their family. Consider the proximity to family in the destination you are considering. Do you want to live near your children? Do you want to live near your grandchildren? Consider the proximity to family you are considering.
10. Make a Decision: After you have considered all the options, it is time to make a decision. Don't be afraid to make a decision. You have to live somewhere. Make a decision and move forward. It is time for you to truly begin your wonderful retirement. You have decided on a location, do not look back.
